

UNDERSTANDING PERSONAL ENCOURAGER GROUPS

WHAT ARE PEGS?

Personal Encourager Groups (PEGs), are small groups within the main CBR Training Cohort. They are equipped to help the trainees have a closer fellowship and successfully walk the journey of discipline in Bible reading.

How do PEGs function?

prayer

We pray together for divine grace and strength while in the training. Discipline formation takes time and effort and help from above is essential. We also pray for each other as need arises.

Study Questions

Every lesson in CBR has study questions that help us understand the lesson content better. We meet at least 3 times a month - that is before the time scheduled for the next lesson. This is a group effort; let us encourage each other to it.

Group Power

Scaling the heights of discipline can be difficult when alone. In the PEGs, we take advantage of group power to overcome consistency barriers and disciple each other to a lasting discipline in reading the Bible. We attend to session activities together and seek to leave no one behind! We score the necessary points as a TEAM.

Memory Recitation

The Word of God is the SWORD of the Spirit and the means to overthrow the devices of darkness. It is necessary to have the Word always at heart. In the PEGs we spur each other to this noble practice and grow together as the Word becomes part of us.

Disclaimer!

In CBR training, PEGs are key to meeting all expectations that allow the Bible readers to graduate/ get commissioned at the end of the training. Those NOT walking in PEGs will be considered friends of the group and will not graduate. Don't miss out; join a PEG today.
